Description

Document Description

A Multimodal Bill of Lading FBL is an international transport documents covering two or more modes of transport, such as shipping by road and by sea.

It is also used as a carriage contract and receipt that the goods have been received.

When it is issued "to the order", the Multimodal Bill of Lading is title of ownership of the goods and can therefore be negotiated.

As a rule, Multimodal Bills of Lading are not negotiable documents.
